Express Course: The Power of Descriptive Statistics in IBM SPSS Statistics

This two-hour course will show users why descriptive statistics are powerful and how they can show insight. We will review descriptive statistics and show users how to run these summaries in IBM SPSS Statistics. Tables and visualization techniques will also be reviewed.

This course will cover the following topics:

- What are descriptive statistics, and why are they useful?
- How to run descriptive statistics in IBM SPSS Statistics
- Data exploration
- Descriptives in table format
- Descriptives in visual format
- Automation of work

Course attendees will receive sample data files and step-by-step exercises that can be completed following the course.